URGED McLEAN AND FALL TO RELATE FACTS

Slomp Says He, With No Previous Knowledge of Loan by Farmer to Latter, Discussed Situation With Them

RECORDS EXAMINED

Publisher Did Not Have $100,000 on Deposit in Bank Checks Were Drawn on at Time of Transaction

Washington, Feb. 25. — Turning attention once more to the McLean-Fall incident at Palm Beach, the senate committee heard today on behalf of the White House a positive disclaimer of any previous inside information on the subject and development of a new mystery regarding the now famous $100,000 loan which Albert B. Fall obtained while he was in the cabinet.

C. E. Slomp, secretary to President Coolidge, testified that he not only had no prior knowledge of the transaction regarding the loan, but he discussed the subject at Palm Beach with both Fall and Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, and urged that they dispose of the many rumors in circulation by telling the committee the whole story.

Deposits Did Not Total $100,000.

Promising to tell all, Mr. Slomp said, McLean testified before Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, on the same day that he had given Fall two checks aggregating $100,000 late in 1921, but they had been returned to him uncashed. Today, however, the committee learned from an examination of the records of Washington banks that the publisher did not have an aggregate of $100,000 on deposit at that time in the bank on which he said the checks were drawn.

Having learned that Mr. Slomp had conversations with both McLean and Fall regarding the oil scandal at Palm Beach last month, Senator Walsh will seek tomorrow to ascertain whether any individual members of the committee communicated by telephone or otherwise with either of them at the Florida resort or with Fall at New Orleans. Should the records in the offices of the telephone and telegraph companies here disclose that there was such communication, the committee members involved will be given an opportunity to make a statement in the public hearings.

Says Daugherty Did Not Object.

After hearing Mr. Slomp, the committee received from H. Foster Bain, director of the bureau of mines, testimony that Fall had told him that the contract with the Doherty interests for oil tank storage at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, had been discussed by the cabinet and that Attorney General Daugherty had made no objection to it.

Taking the oil discussion again to the center of the senate, Senator Walsh charged that the Republican national committee news bureau had made a "deliberate and malicious" misrepresentation of the facts in its statement of yesterday that the naval oil leases were made under the general leasing act of February, 1920, which he had sponsored.

Replying in a statement tonight the news bureau asserted that Senator Walsh's declaration that the leases were made, not under this act, but under one passed in June, 1920, was "a quibble for the purpose of misrepresenting the facts."

Not to Recall McAdoo.

Chairman Lenroot and others of the oil committee indicated that there was no intention to recall William C. McAdoo, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, for questioning regarding his statement yesterday that the naval oil leases were made under the general leasing act of February, 1920, which he had sponsored.

Carl F. Schuyler, a Denver attorney who was counsel for J. Lee Slack, whose claims to rights in Teapot Dome were purchased by Harry F. Sinclair, arrived here today to present to the committee tomorrow correspondence which has been received from the committee.

Appointment was made that Sinclair would be recalled for questioning.

Buildup of the expert accountants now working on the books of the oil companies in Washington, New York, and Cleveland, have indicated the committee the results of their work. Likewise, no definite date has been fixed for the appearance of the witness stand of Edward B. McLean, who will be asked to clear up the mystery concerning the $100,000 in checks he claims to have given Fall.

HOUSE VOTES TO JUMP ESTATE TAX

New Rates Call for Maximum of 40 Per Cent on Estates Over $10,000.00

Washington, Feb. 25.—An increase in the estate or inheritance taxes was voted into the revenue bill in the house today by another combination of Democratic and Republican insurgent forces. Another proposal of the coalition—a gift tax—was before the house when it adjourned. Both amendments were attacked by organization Republicans, the estate tax increase raising the rates all along the line on the same brackets as now contained in the law to a maximum of 40 per cent on the amount by which the estate of a decedent exceeds $100,000,000 instead of the present 25 per cent was adopted, 190 to 110.

Representative Ramseyer, Iowa, Republican, submitted the estate tax amendment and Representative Green, Republican, Iowa, chairman of the ways and means committee, proposed the gift tax which will be voted on tomorrow. About six Democrats present voted against the estate tax amendment, which was supported by about 20 Republicans, including Chairman Green, on a division vote.

WILSON LEAVES HIS ESTATE TO WIDOW

Wants Daughters to Have Personal Effects of Mother—Margaret Gets Annuity

Washington, Feb. 25.—The will of Woodrow Wilson, filed for probate today, leaves the estate to his widow, Mrs. Edith Bolling Wilson, with the exception that his daughter, Margaret Wilson, shall receive an annual income of $2,500 as long as she remains unmarried.

The will asks Mrs. Wilson to distribute among Mr. Wilson's daughters such articles of clothing, jewelry, personal mementoes and art works that may have belonged to their mother, the first wife of the former President.

Under the will, Mrs. Wilson is to retain the estate during her life, and the unexpended portion at her death is to be distributed among Mr. Wilson's daughters.

The will was opened February 15, according to a notation on the envelope.

Eleanor Wilson McAdoo, and W. G. McAdoo.

ROCHESTER HAS FIFTH BIG BLAZE IN PAST TWO DAYS

Rochester, Feb. 25.—A spectacular fire at Fay's theatre building in Main street, west, this afternoon, made a total of five big fires in this city in the last 48 hours. The total loss caused by the fires is estimated at $215,000.

The fire in the theatre building broke out as firemen were fighting a stiff blaze in the warehouse of F. P. VanHoesen Wall Paper company. Eight hundred persons, mostly women and children, walked calmly from the theatre when informed of the fire. The fire raged for four hours, threatening the Hotel Rochester next door, but a heavy fire wall prevented the flames spreading in that direction. The automatic sprinkler system of the hotel was turned on, sending streams of water into the heart of the fire from the third and fourth floor windows of the hotel.

RICKARD SEEKS TO HASTEN PROBE OF SPECULATION CASE

New York, Feb. 25.—Tex Rickard, accused of collusion with racket speculators in connection with the Dempsey-Firpe match last September, will appear before the state athletic commission tomorrow to demand an immediate investigation of the charges made by Tom O'Rourke, veteran promoter, in Albany last week.

Rickard has not been officially summoned by the commission, which has announced it will probe the charges, but the promoter declared he wants a thorough sifting to establish their truth or falsity. He has collected considerable data designed to refute O'Rourke's charges and will lay them before the commissioners.

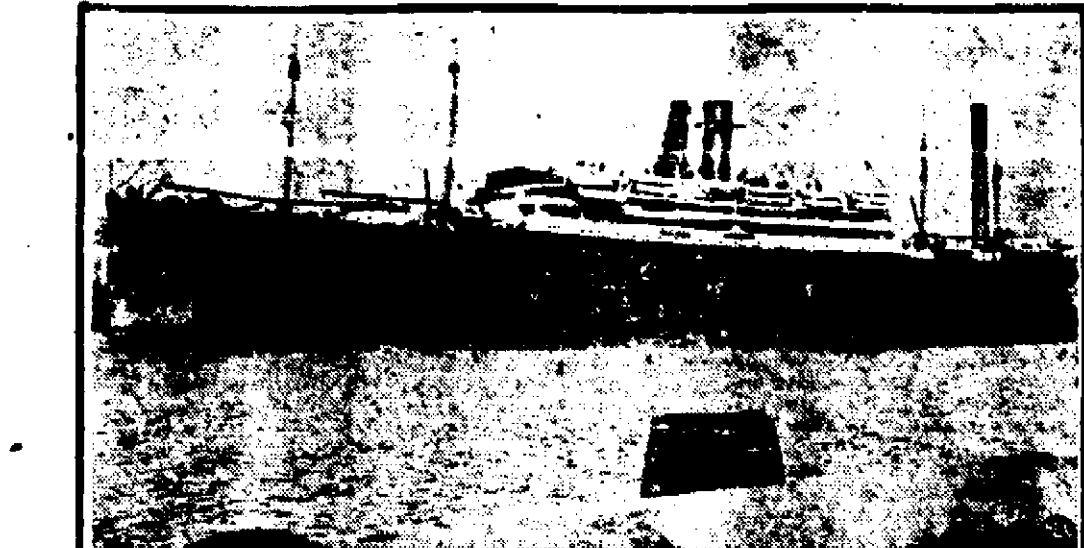

It was said at the commission's offices that Rickard had not been summoned.

POLAR FLIGHT MERELY POSTPONED FOR YEAR

Lakehurst, N. J., Feb. 25.—Plans for the flight of the naval dirigible Shenandoah to the polar regions have not been abandoned but merely have been postponed for a year. Lieutenant Commander Zachary Lansdowne, commander of the ship, said today on his return from Washington where he had been in consultation with Rear Admiral William Moffett, chief of the bureau of naval aeronautics.

The Shenandoah, according to present plans, will be used as a scout cruiser for the Atlantic fleet during the early summer, and will then head for the Pacific fleet for maneuvers during the later months. This is planned in order to give the Pacific coast a glimpse of the dirigible ship.

New U. S. Line Vessel Almost Ready

Work on the U. S. Republic, the new U. S. Lines vessel, is nearing completion at Newport, and soon she will be in transatlantic operation. She will have room for 600 cabin passengers and 1336 third class passengers. No second class. It will be the last word in boats and will run between New York and Bremen.

SEEKS PROBE OF PHONE RATES IN NEW YORK CITIES

Public Service Commission Charged With Violating Public Faith

SEES PRACTICAL MONOPOLY

Certainty of Payment and Market Indicated—Labor and Other Costs Constant

Albany, Feb. 25.—Democratic leaders of both houses of the legislature tonight in introducing in their respective bodies resolutions seeking a legislative investigation of the rates and service of the New York Telephone company and also the relation between that company and the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

Senator James J. Walker, majority leader of the upper house, and Morris Bloch, minority leader of the assembly, in a joint statement given out after they had introduced the resolutions, charged the Public Service Commission "by fixing a new monthly basis for telephone charges in the face of strenuous opposition and notwithstanding the fact that the company claimed no appreciable increase by this offensive method of charging."

Practical Monopoly.

"It is difficult to see why, within the last nine months," the leaders statement said, "the cost of maintenance per station should have been so considerably increased. Neither prices nor labor have materially increased during that time. Why should telephone users in this state pay in their annual bills at least $5,000,000 more than is reasonably required?"

"The greater part of all the supplies and equipment is bought by the New York Telephone company from its firm brother, the Western Electric company. Both of these corporations are owned by the American Telephone and Telegraph company. The practically assured market for the Western Electric company and the American Telephone and Telegraph company subsidiaries and the certainty of payment gives the Western Electric company practically a monopoly. What should be determined at once is the cost of the manufacture to the Western Electric company."

2 GIRLS CAUGHT UNDER AUTO; ESCORTS KILLED

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 25.—Two girls, Miss Kate Thomas, 16, and Miss Irene Clinton, 16, were imprisoned for more than six hours with the dead bodies of their two male companions, Charles Whalen, 22, and Guy Burnett, 21, when an automobile in which they were riding today was overturned. A ditch in which the automobile accident landed was partly filled with water. The girls were soaked and suffered from exposure to the cold in addition to nervous shock and bruises.

The accident terminated an automobile ride after a dance. Miss Irene Clinton, 16, and the two men and woman after the accident, both being caught to death. It was impossible for them to get out of the wreckage, she said, being pinned by both the automobile and the bodies of the men.

MILK PEDDLER AND SISTER INHERIT $1,000,000 ESTATE

Railroad, Vt., Feb. 25.—T. G. Hart of Rutland, a milk peddler, and his sister, Mrs. Edward Leonard, of Rutland, an efficient farming community, have become joint heirs to the $1,000,000 estate of their aunt, Mrs. Helen M. Wilson of Rutland, Cal., through a bequest of the California Agricultural Experiment Station.

The estate consists in part of 5,000 acres of fertile California soil, and was left by Mrs. Wilson to an only son who used dishonest means, causing the property to revert to her line.

CHINESE GOVERNMENT FALLS

London, Feb. 25.—The Greek government headed by Premier Katsaris has fallen, according to an Athens dispatch to the Daily Express, in consequence of its refusal to accede to the demands of the extremists for the establishment of a republic before a plebiscite was taken.

The Day in Washington

William Phillips, under secretary of state, was nominated to be ambassador to Belgium.

The house voted to increase the estate taxes carried in the revenue bill.

Secretary Weeks, before the house insular affairs committee, opposed Philippine independence.

The house insular committee proposed a joint congressional investigation of administration of Indian affairs in Oklahoma.

It was learned that Joseph M. Dixon, governor of Montana, is being seriously considered for secretary of the navy.

The supreme court held invalid the act making state workmen's compensation laws applicable to stevedores working on vessels lying in navigable waters.

President Coolidge told members of the house pensions committee he was opposed to enactment at this time of pension legislation involving any considerable drain on the treasury.

Attorney General Daugherty wrote a letter to Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, saying he had dealt in Sinclair oil stock but had not misused official information.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, characterized as a "deliberate and malicious" misrepresentation of the facts in the statement by the news bureau of the Republican national committee which said the naval oil leases were made under an act sponsored by him.

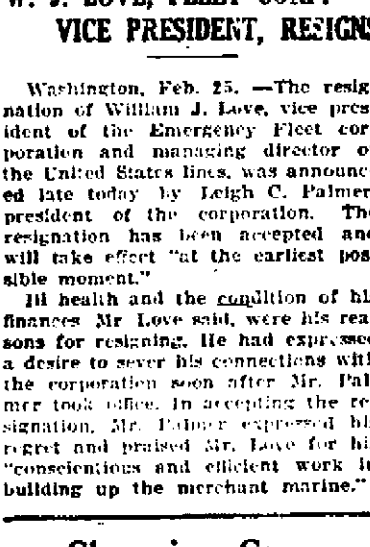

The senate oil committee examined C. E. Slomp, secretary to President Coolidge, heard Washington bankers testify as to the accuracy of Edward B. McLean, and recalled for a short time H. Foster Bain, director of the bureau of mines.

W. J. LOVE, FLEET CORP. VICE PRESIDENT, RESIGNS

Washington, Feb. 25.—The resignation of William J. Love, vice president of the Emergency Fleet corporation and managing director of the United States Lines, was announced late today by Leigh C. Palmer, president of the corporation. The resignation has been accepted and will take effect "at the earliest possible moment."

Mr. Love's resignation was his own. He had expressed a desire to sever his connections with the corporation soon after Mr. Palmer took office. In accepting the resignation, Mr. Palmer expressed his regret and praised Mr. Love for his "conscientious and efficient work in building up the merchant marine."

STATE BONUS BILL READY FOR ACTION BY GOVERNOR

Albany, Feb. 25.—A four-year effort to pass a soldier bonus bill through legislative channels was successful tonight, when the assembly approved the measure designed to provide machinery for the distribution of $15,000,000 as a bonus to World War veterans of New York state. It now goes to Governor Smith for his signature, having been passed by the senate last week.

The bill seeks to provide that all men and women who served in the United States forces during the recent war, as soldiers, sailors, or airmen, will receive $10 for each month they served. A limit of $125 is set for total payments to any one individual, however.

HOPPE GRANTED DIVORCE

New York, Feb. 25.—William F. Hoppe, world's champion billiardist, was given a verdict today by a jury in supreme court sustaining the charges he preferred against his wife, Alice Beatrice Hoppe, in his suit for absolute divorce.

The jury found that Mrs. Hoppe, who is a sister of George Walsh, the motion picture actor, was guilty of misconduct last November with Edward M. Eiser, a salesman.

PRISONERS OVER BOARD

Oswego, Feb. 25.—Two prisoners Sunday submitted to a blood transfusion operation in the hope of saving the life of Ernest Heiderman, a fellow convict.

One selected a chicken as his reward, the other a box of spaghetti. The prisoners, who had been in the prison for some time, were taken to a hospital for observation.

SAYS FALL TRIED TO GAIN CONTROL OF FOREST LANDS

Gov. Pinchot Says Former President Harding Approved of Secretary's Plans

ROOSEVELT CHANGES IDEAS

Individual's Interests Once Predominant; Now Public Good Considered

New York, Feb. 25.—Plans to have the forest reserves of the United States turned over to the department of the interior as had been done with the naval oil reserves, had been made by former Secretary Fall of the interior, it was declared tonight by Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania in an address before the Survey Associates. Governor Pinchot formerly was chief forester of the United States.

Former President Harding, the speaker asserted, had approved of Fall's plans and characterized Governor Pinchot's opposition to the policy as wrong.

"In the Roosevelt administration," Mr. Pinchot discussed the conservation policy of President Roosevelt, describing it as his greatest permanent contribution to the safety and welfare of the American people. The thorough approval of the people had given the policy was shown, he declared, by the "universal exclamation" now poured upon men who have attempted to scrap the Roosevelt conservation idea."

Says Fall Supported Amendment

Previous to the Roosevelt administration, Mr. Pinchot said, "the whole attitude of the western part of the country was to 'get while the getting is good' and the whole service at Washington was permeated with the idea that the private interests were everything and the public right was nothing."

REPORT SHOWS FIRE ESCAPE DOORS LOCKED IN BLAZE

Montpelier, Vt., Feb. 25.—Doors leading to the fire escape in the insurance building here, destroyed by fire February 15 with the loss of all lives, were kept locked, according to a report submitted today by State Inspector Marshall A. G. Frolic and State Attorney C. R. Adams, who conducted an investigation lasting a week.

The investigators found that the fire started in or near a fireplace stove in the first floor of the building near a chimney. No evidence of an explosion was found.

DIRECT PRIMARIES DEBATE EXPECTED

Speaker Macchold Says Passage by Republican Assembly Assured

Albany, Feb. 25.—The legislature will soon be called upon to consider a bill seeking restoration of the direct primary system of nominating state officers, and its passage by the Republican assembly is assured, Speaker H. Edmund Macchold declared today.

His statement came after he had received a letter, signed by 50 prominent Republicans of the state, demanding that immediate favorable action be taken on a measure designed to bring about such an end which has been introduced by Assemblyman Joseph Flynn, Republican, Kings.

Although the Flynn bill still remains in committee with the direct measure, which enforces the administration program features, it does not include that section of the administration bill which seeks "unofficial" party conventions to obtain "party opinions" on candidates for the election of delegates-at-large to national conventions at spring primaries, rather than have party conventions name them.

These are the features of the administration program measure to which the Republicans would not lend their support, Speaker Macchold declared, and which will probably bring about a favorable committee report and subsequent assembly action on the Flynn bill.

DAWES' EXPERTS STUDY AUSTRIA

Stabilization of Affairs in That Country May Aid in Solving Germany's Problem

(By the Associated Press)

Paris, Feb. 25.—Before coming to a final conclusion on the plans to stabilize Germany's finances and balance her budget, General Dawes' committee on experts has decided to get information on how a similar task was accomplished in Austria.

To this end Sir Edgar Salter, a British expert who has been identified with Austria's economic rehabilitation, has been asked to appear before the committee on an extended hearing.

After hearing the report of the budget sub-committee on the German budget for 1924 and 1925, the full committee requested a similar report for 1926.

The sub-committee on railways also held a long session today and heard Sir William Ackworth and M. Lefevre, two railway experts. It is said tonight that the drafting of the general report to the reparations commission has not yet been begun.

MACCHOLD SAYS STATE NEEDS NEW MULLAN-GAGE STATUTE

Albany, Feb. 25.—"Every man has a right to his own opinions," was the only comment which Governor Smith would make today on a statement from Speaker H. Edmund Macchold that New York state was in dire need of re-enactment of a prohibition enforcement law similar to the Mullan-Gage act, which was passed last year.

The governor has indicated, however, that he will stand by his speech of last Wednesday night, when he declared "what we need is not more law, it is better enforcement of the law we now have."

The view of prohibition enforcement legislation taken by Speaker Macchold was regarded here tonight as the official answer of the Republican party of the state to the governor's request for local enforcement.

DAUGHERTY ADMITS OIL STOCK DEALS

Traded in Sinclair Issues Before and After Entering Cabinet — Got Rid of Holdings Last Fall

ACTS WERE PROPER

Writes He Never Missed Official Information—President May Ask for His Resignation—Action Seen

Washington, Feb. 25.—Attorney General Daugherty today publicly acknowledged that he had dealt in Sinclair oil before and since he entered the cabinet, declared he had never misused official information in these transactions and renewed his willingness to submit all the facts in any investigation the senate might order.

In an open letter to Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, Mr. Daugherty said he bought some Sinclair stock before he became attorney general, and finally suffered a loss of $18 a share. Six months after Teapot Dome was leased to the Sinclair interest, he sold part of his stock, in an effort to recoup losses. Later he bought back the same amount at a slightly lower price, and finally sold, last fall, his entire Sinclair holdings.

The letter also answered charges of failure to prosecute former Secretary Fall, Edward L. Doherty, Harry P. Sinclair, and Charles R. Forbes, former director of the Veterans' bureau. Mr. Daugherty pointed out that at his suggestion action against Fall, Doherty and Sinclair was left to special government counsel, while proceedings against Mr. Forbes had been initiated some time ago before a grand jury at Chicago.

May Expect Action Shortly.

A copy of the letter was sent to the White House. Officials said it had not previously been submitted to President Coolidge. Late in the day, Mr. Daugherty had a long conference with the chief executive but there was no outward indication of a change in the situation that has reigned since the resignation of certain senate leaders that he resign.

At the same time, however, it was apparent that some definite step might be announced in the near future. The President has under consideration several proposals, one of them contemplating that Mr. Daugherty submit his resignation to become effective after the senate inquiry has been completed.

Action on the investigation resolution is expected in the senate not later than Wednesday, and it may be adopted tomorrow.

SEMINOLE CAPTURES FIVE MOTOR BOATS AND 14 MEN

New York, Feb. 25.—Fourteen men and five motor boats, captured by the coast guard cutter Seminole as they cruised near the Long Beach ship, Bluestown, with her $300,000 cargo, were towed tonight into "dead-end" basin," the government's internment ship at the Battery.

A search of the seized craft having failed to disclose more than an odor of liquor, the ships with their crews were held for violation of the navigation laws in that they were outside the three-mile limit without clearance papers.

The captures were made at the Fire Island end of the rum fleet, which row stretches from that point southward along the New Jersey coast. Officers of the Seminole reported dragging 10 cases of whiskey from the water near the scene of the seizures.

BIRTH CONTROL MEETINGS MAY BE HELD IN SYRACUSE

Syracuse, Feb. 25.—The state conference of birth control advocates scheduled to be held in Syracuse, Tuesday and Friday, was removed today by Mayor John H. Walworth's veto of an ordinance passed last week forbidding discussion of birth control in public.

An attempt in the same council to pass the ordinance over the mayor's veto failed by two votes when, after a stormy discussion, the opponents of the birth control were able to marshal but 13 votes of the 15 necessary to override the veto.

Mayor Walworth's veto was accompanied by a memorandum in which he stated the constitutional guarantee to citizens of the right of free speech and to peaceful assembly must be kept inviolate and unimpaired forever.

PRISONER COERCED TO SIGN

Waco, Feb. 25.—When jail guards entered his cell with supper this evening they found Stanley Kesterson dead. He had committed suicide by hanging himself with a towel. The evening Kesterson had pleaded guilty to a murder charge before Judge Foster B. Connelley to avoid a long and hard fight in the state prison.

CYRUS RAIL STATION BURNED

(By the Associated Press)
Hayden, Feb. 25.—The station of the Hayden Railway was burned today. The train was stopped at the station when the fire broke out. The station was a large building and was completely destroyed. The cause of the fire was not known.

BETTER LAW ENFORCEMENT

That was a sane and sensible assertion which Secretary of State Hughes made Saturday night in an address delivered by him before the American Law Institute in Washington, that the people of the United States are suffering under the burden of too much law. Referring to the growing mass of law and legal opinions in the United States, he said that in one year there were 115,000 pages of decisions, an average of 12,000 or more statutes, and 13,000 or more recorded decisions of the highest court.

"For generations," he said, "we have talked of the evil of multiplying laws and then, sitting in legislative halls, we as lawyers do our full share to increase it."

One matter to which Mr. Hughes called attention is that the evil does not lie chiefly with the courts but with the legislatures. Important laws are annually passed which in their purpose are commendable but which are so badly drawn that appeal is sure to follow, the courts being thus burdened with the task of definitely determining just what was the legislative intent. Most important of all, he asserted, is improvement in the administration of the criminal law, by certainty in definition and clarity in administration. Certainly there is no reason why cases of this sort should drag along for years before final adjudication.

Briefly, the secretary believes—as do practically all citizens—who deplore this uncertainty and delay, that what is needed is not more laws but better ones, clearly drawn and easily understandable. One of the benefits of important decisions is the construction of the United States, and it is also one of the most desirable. Fewer laws, more state and federal statutes, drawn with fewer wherefore, fewer qualifying phrases, and less verbiage, more in fact like the fundamental law, there will dawn a better day alike for litigants and the courts. There are thousands of statutes on the books of states and nations which are alive in the sense that they never have been repealed, but dead because they have never been enforced. Fewer laws, clearer laws and better law enforcement are things which the country needs.

SUNDAY BASEBALL

There is no evidence that the national game is being played on Sunday. But they do play ball, and the rest may follow in time.

They play ball under the guiding eye of a paternal government. They have got to play it. Baseball is subsidized, under the administration of Governor Felipe Puerto. That entitles executive pay $11,000 a year for the distribution of baseball rules and uniforms and the laying out of diamonds, and the state insists on getting the worth of its money. And pleasant to relate, the Yankessians—if that is what they are called—take to the game with avidity.

Governor Puerto explains, makes the mind "vigorous, alert and free." It is also good for the body, a fact not to be scorned in any Latin-American country, in view of the present ascendancy of our Latin brethren in the world of sport.

Baseball may yet become the national game of Mexico, entirely supplanting bull-fighting and cockfighting. If it does, Mexico will be a more highly regarded neighbor and a more vigorous business competitor.

JUSTIFIED LUXURIES

This is a great day for luxuries in the United States. While the nation complains about high taxes, coal strikes and other serious problems on the one hand, on the other it goes cheerily about spending good money for things it doesn't need. The Trade Record of the National City Bank of New York shows that of 450 articles or groups of manufactured articles, about 400 declined in value from 1919 to 1931. The remaining 50 articles increased. Of these, 50 per cent were articles which may properly be classed as luxuries.

Not all purchase of luxuries is reckless extravagance, by any means. There are times when a little judicious indulgence in some luxury or other does the soul as much good as food does the body. If the nation is buying useful and necessary things as it needs them and if it is putting money into its savings accounts—as many records indicate—then its added use of luxuries probably means that on the whole it can afford them and is deriving real satisfaction from them.

CANDIDACY ENDORSED

First Methodist Society Copes McHenry as Lay Delegate.

At a recent meeting of the official board of the First Methodist church of this city a resolution was passed endorsing the candidacy of Dr. W. McHenry of Port Jervis as a lay delegate to the general conference of that church to be held in Springfield, Mass., in May next, and urging Major W. Irving Post, the delegate to the lay conference, to give his candidacy his hearty support.

Mr. McHenry is so far as known here, the only candidate for the post from the Oneonta district, and as the Young Men's Association is to have their delegates to the conference, it is probable that the support of his candidacy will be considerable.

A SHOWER OF THANKS

"I wish" and "Avery Goodness" are the words that I wish to say to the Oneonta Star for the way it has been so kind to publish my story.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY

Coffee Cuts Up

The weather may have been bad down in Brazil, and the coffee crop may be short this season, but that is not the real reason that coffee for the American breakfast table goes up. It is because of the monetary control of the coffee market exercised by the Brazilian government through the application of its valorization scheme, and its ability to borrow American dollars with 200-pound coffee bags as collateral back of loans sought and procured for the purpose of controlling the entire coffee output of Brazil. —[Philadelphia Record.]

Mr. Daugherty

It is easy to understand why Mr. Daugherty has not wished to lead up to the resignation of the member of the cabinet most closely attached to the personal friendship to Mr. Harding. But this very situation presses upon Mr. Daugherty the duty to tender his resignation. Chosen for office largely because of an intimate personal relationship with his chief, he should have at once insisted upon retiring when a new President entered the White House. Because he has delayed too long is no excuse for delaying longer. —[New York Tribune.]

Civic Tidiness

Carelessness in the matter of community tidiness seems to be increasing generally. England, always noted in the past for its neat and well-kept countryside, now complains that newspapers, lunch boxes and tin cans are thrown all over the landscape in barbarous desecration. Everybody in this country has either seen for himself or read about the unsightly state of our own main thoroughfares, our city streets and public parks. —[Elkhart (Ind.) Truth.]

An Excellent Choice

Henry P. Fletcher, the Pennsylvania chosen by the President to be the successor of Richard Washburn Child, an ambassador to Italy, is one of the new school of American diplomats, men in which natural fitness for the task has been joined with careful training and long experience abroad. —[Philadelphia Bulletin.]

Most Expressive

One of our foreign visitors says that Americans are highly expressive in their dancing. If we knew what it is the dancers are trying to express this may prove to be no complaint. Of hand one might suspect that the dancers were striving to express their disrespect for convention. —[Los Angeles Times.]

Interest in Bryan's Choice

The rush to the standard of Mr. Bryan's candidate, Dr. Murphy of Florida, is beginning evidently. We had a man 'phone us the other day and ask: "What did you say his name was?" —[Houston Post.]

Popular Occupation

We may play the "man with the hoe," but how most of us do love to handle the muck rake! —[Manchester Union.]

That Man of Hours
 By James W. Barton, M.D.
 BLUE MONDAY.

Is there anything in the idea of "blue Monday"?

Do people really feel more depressed after the day of rest than before it?

Yes, there is considerable truth in it for some people, but I believe the cause is not hard to find.

Of course there are ministers, priests, and church workers, who use up a tremendous amount of vitality on Sunday.

The idea the preacher has, that he should go out early Monday morning in the golf course, to make up by hard physical exertion for this mental expenditure is a tremendous mistake.

He should lie in bed Monday morning for an extra couple of hours, and then later in the afternoon get his game of golf.

But you are not a preacher or hard worker in the church and yet you feel tired out Monday morning.

What's the matter?

Well, you've worked hard all week and quite sensibly take an extra hour or two in bed Sunday.

Then you get up fairly hungry, have plenty of time to enjoy a good breakfast, and so on.

There is usually a real good dinner at noon on Sunday, home cooking, foot you like, and you proceed to eat a hearty meal.

You perhaps sit around home during the afternoon, or perhaps on for a walk. Your mind is not worried over business and with complete relaxation you look forward to the evening meal. Even where the evening meal is omitted, there is usually a good sized "snack" indulged in before retiring.

What does all this mean?

That you have taken into your system more food—and rich food at that—than you would eat in almost any two days through the week.

And what else?

That you have really done less work, used your body less than during any other day in the week.

What's your point?

Nothing less at all. Simply over-eating and underworking.

Your system is practically clogged, because there have been no actual functioning of the different parts of the body.

And the suggestion? Get your extra hour or two of rest in Sunday morning, but remember the rest of the day will be that much shorter with really no work to do.

You could do with one meal less anyway.

TWENTY AND THIRTY YEARS AGO

February 23, 1904.

Since the D. & H. paint shops at Green Island burned, the rumor has been frequently heard that the company would abandon entirely the shops there and remove the work to another point, probably Oneonta. The Green Island people are endeavoring to retain the shops, which employ 500 men.

Arrangements are being made for a fitting recognition of the tenth anniversary of the organization of the Oneonta Woman's club. On the evening of March 3 Miss Evelyn Canfield of Fort Plain will give a song recital for members and their gentlemen friends and on March 12 a luncheon will be served to club members, at which time an appropriate program will be given.

The Woman's Board of Managers of the Fox Memorial hospital has elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Albert Morris; vice president, Mrs. George Kirkland; secretary, Miss Elizabeth A. Blakely; treasurer, Mrs. Howard Lyon; directors for two years, Mrs. Merton L. Ford, Miss Caroline Andrews, Mrs. John Bowditch, Mrs. Russell D. Baird and Mrs. George W. Fairchild.

The new uniforms of the D. F. Wilber Hook and Ladder company will be of black broadcloth. The coat will be of the style now worn by United States naval officers with gilt buttons on each side of the collar.

There will be two pairs of trousers, one pair being of white flannel. The caps, of which there will be two, one black and the other white, will be of the latest design worn by cadets of the United States Military academy at West Point.

February 23, 1904.

Miss Frances Wilkinson has been engaged as typewriter at Buckley's shirt factory.

The plank walk on Main street, between Maple street and the bridge, is reported as being in a very bad condition. Planks lay there entirely loose and pedestrians frequently experience difficulty in walking over them without being tripped up.

The Oneonta Consolidated Transfer company is composed of a few members of that Normal society who own a horse and conveyance and who are doing their best to raise money for the society by carrying baggage and persons to the trains and other places.

The following Oneonta people have been appointed notaries public: George M. Bristol, Perry I. Bugbee, Alfred W. Carr, Joel M. Denton, William H. Drew, A. Raymond Gibbs, George L. Gibbs, Thomas H. Hagerty, Bertton G. Johnson, Abraham L. Kellogg, James H. Keyes, Douglas W. Miller, Merritt O. Muller, John F. Newell, Samuel H. Pomeroy, John S. Bell, James Stewart, Charles L. Wilber and David J. Yager.

Mr. and Mrs. George Morse of Norwich celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary today. Mr. Morse has for thirty-five years been an employee of the O. & W. railway, and is now station baggage agent. Mrs. Morse has for forty years conducted a leading millinery establishment.

There were 140 members of the Oneonta County Fish and Game club present at the banquet of that organization in Norwich last Friday evening. It was announced that the State Conservation commission has granted the request of the club to erect a tablet on the State Game farm at Sherburne in memory of the late Hon. Jeremiah P. Allen, who was very active in locating the farm.

It is stated that the heirs-at-law of the late Rev. C. C. Waller are expected to about $10,000, of which only a small part goes to relatives. The principal beneficiaries are the six Waller children. If the will is upheld the children will get about $4,000 each.

STATE INCOME TAX AGENTS

Director Fred J. Graff Gives List of Towns Where Bureau Experts Will Assist in Making Returns.

Residents of 26 cities and villages in the Ulster district of the State income tax bureau will have available the assistance of bureau experts on their 1923 personal income tax returns.

District Director Fred J. Graff announces that agents of the bureau will be located as follows in this vicinity:

Bainbridge, First National bank, February 25.

Greene, First National bank, March 11.

Oxford, First National bank, April 11.

Sherburne, Sherburne National bank, March 3 and 4.

Norwich, Chamber of Commerce, March 5, 6, 7 and April 10, 11 and 12.

Sidney, Municipal hall, February 26, 27 and 28.

Delhi, supervisor's office, March 19.

Walton, Walton hall, March 20, 21 and 22.

Oneonta, Chamber of Commerce, February 23 to 25 inclusive.

Richfield Springs, First National bank, March 23 and 24.

Cooperstown, First National bank, March 31 and April 1.

"These men," said the district director, "all the year round pass on complex income tax questions. They are equipped to straighten out tangles which bother taxpayers, such as income on maturity of endowment policies or from stock dividends. Most taxpayers realize now that under the state law dividends are taxable regardless of the date of the accumulation of the surplus out of which they were paid." "These agents," concluded Mr. Graff, "are sent out by the state for the main purpose of giving help and this office will not be satisfied unless the hundreds of taxpayers in these localities avail themselves of their services. Keep the men busy!"

THE GUIDE POST—BY HENRY VANDYKE

GOD SETS US AN EXAMPLE

Forgiving each other even as God also in Christ forgave us.—Eph. 4:32

God bestows all the beauty and all the loveliness of the world upon sinners such as we are.

Even though we have disobeyed him and rebelled against him, his hand still feeds us.

Even though our hearts are filled with villainies, his pure-eyed stars look down on us in tenderness and compassion.

Even though we should wander far away and forget him, and sleep ourselves in wickedness, his sun would still shine, his rain would still fall for us.

Look up, thou prodigal child, lost to thyself and to thy home, sunken in vice and full of inward misery, thou art not lost to thy Father.

For lo! with every morning above thine evil and unhappy head, "God makes himself an asaf rose of dawn."

And even as his light follows and carries thee wherever thou mayest roam, so his love is close to thee, and his mercy waiting to welcome thee, if thou wilt but turn to him.

When we see God forgiving those who have sinned against him, sparing them in his mercy and showing his bounty alike upon the evil and the good, let us take the gracious lesson of forgiveness to our hearts.

Why should we hate like the Devil when we may forgive like God?

Why should we be churlish, malicious, and all uncharitableness in our breasts?

I know that some people use us desperately and show themselves our enemies.

But why should we fill our hearts with their bitterness and let our wounds with their poison?

This world is too sweet and fair to darken it with the clouds of anger. This life is too short to waste it in bearing that burden of all our dross, a grudge.

Forgive and forget if you can; but forgive anyway; and pray heartily and kindly for all men, for then only shall we be the children of our Father.

"Doggone! I can't get the bus started. The engine is cold, I guess," growled Dumbbell.

"That's odd," said his wife. "I should think it would be the gears that were cold; you said they were stripped, while I noticed you had a blanket over the engine." —Cincinnati Enquirer.

"I'm afraid my girl will propose to me in Leap Year. How can I protect myself? Do you think I should beat her up?"

Friend Al—"No, you see. Beat her to it. The other will come later." —Hamilton (Ont.) Herald.

Opposing Captain—"Why don't you fire Smithers out? He can't tackle, he can't run, and he can't kick."

Blinks—"I pity our ancestors for having had to live before the days of the motor car, telephone, etc."

"I was reading in the paper last night," said old Oak Oddways, "that a caterpillar will in a month eat about 600 times his own weight."

"Looky here!" demanded Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, who had entered the crossroads store in the midst of the statement, "Which one of my kids are you talking about?"

LOCAL MENTION

The luncheon served at the Oneonta club Saturday evening was well patronized and thoroughly appreciated by the members. It is probable that it will be made a weekly feature.

The home sale held Saturday at the LaRue store by the Catholic Daughters of America, was very successful, everything contributed being readily sold, as much more would have been made had more been available.

The interior of the Acorn hardware store at 45 Main street has been considerably improved by the removal of the mezzanine floor formerly used for storage purposes and the construction of a spacious and well lighted office in the rear.

Justice Kellogg has recovered from his indisposition and goes to Cooperstown this morning preparatory to opening the February term of the supreme court at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The term will attract numerous attorneys, litigants and jurors to the county seat.

The state committeemen and county chairman of the Democratic party for the 14th congressional district meet at 2 p. m. today at the Hotel Arlington, Binghamton, to make designations for delegates to the national convention for the consideration of party voters at the primaries.

Gardner's Philharmonic orchestra of 30 pieces, with Miss Annie Waters as soloist, is announced to give a concert at both performances at the Oneonta theatre today and crowded houses are expected to result. The feature picture is Brass Commandments, a Fox special. Tickets are only 25 cents and those who wish to secure seats for either performance had best be prompt.

Henry T. Hoag of Poughkeepsie, who assisted in the recent campaign for members of the Oneonta Chamber of Commerce, is now engaged in similar work in Gadsden, Alabama. The February 13 issue of the Gadsden Times-Union, a copy of which Mr. Hoag has sent to this office, announces that Mr. Hoag is now conducting the preliminary work incident to the approaching campaign for members of the Gadsden Chamber of Commerce. Gadsden is a manufacturing city of some 14,000 population. The Chamber there is striving for 500 members.

LOCATE DESIRABLE MAN.

Possible Manager for Oneonta Ball Team This Summer.

Messrs. D. F. Wilber, P. H. Marx and D. F. Keres arrived home Saturday evening from a business trip to New York and Philadelphia, during which they met with a number of league players who have been highly recommended to the Community Athletic association as a player-manager for the Oneonta ball team this season. No definite decision was reached as the man desires to consider the proposal here along with another position that has been offered him. They also learned of a second good prospect, but while investigating his capabilities will make no overtures until the first candidate has reached a decision. The identity of either the committee does not disclose and quite possibly will not even should an engagement result, until he can visit this city and be presented to the fans. All may rest assured that the matter is being given careful attention and the committee hopes to be able to make a definite announcement soon. Meanwhile make your plans to witness some prime quality of base ball again this summer.

NEW SECRETARY CHOSEN

E. J. MacEwan of Binghamton, a young man well known in Oneonta, where he has spent much time during the past six years as representative of the Binghamton Adding Machine company, was chosen as secretary of the Oneonta Chapter of Commerce on Saturday by the committee appointed to select the successor of Secretary Everett Hicks, who had resigned. Mr. MacEwan will commence his duties on March 15.

Mr. MacEwan has represented the Binghamton company for over six years in various parts of the country, his work taking him to Washington, Philadelphia, Kansas City and Spokane, Washington. He was in Oneonta during parts of 1912, 1919 and 1921, and during all of 1932. During that time he gained the acquaintance of a majority of the city's business and professional men and hence is in no sense a new comer.

The committee feels that Mr. MacEwan will prove to be an excellent secretary. He is possessed of unusual charm and ease of manner and his recommendations are of the highest. His years of experience in selling a high class product to business and professional men and commercial institutions have given him a wide insight into business problems and especially into the needs and problems of the retailer. His knowledge of the city and his acquaintance with many of its business men give him an advantage which an outsider would lack and will enable him to launch himself at once into the work of the Chamber without the necessity of a period of getting acquainted.

Although the new secretary will not commence his duties until March 15 he will be at the annual meeting of the Chamber on Tuesday evening and will be presented to the membership at that time.

Mr. Hicks, who has served the Chamber with great credit for the past three years, will remain in the city for another week and will then move to Williamsport, Pa., his home city, where he will locate.

REQUEST DR. FLYNN'S RETURN

Unanimous Action of Church Officers at Fourth Quarterly Conference Last Evening.

The First Methodist church of this city last evening by vote of its officers at the fourth quarterly conference held at the close of the evening service, unanimously requested the return of Rev. Dr. John W. Flynn to the pastorate of the church and asked Rev. Dr. Godshall, the district superintendent, to see that no change is made in the pastoral relations.

The action had been anticipated. In fact among members of the church and congregation it has been assumed as a settled matter, but with a man of Dr. Flynn's personality and pulpit ability, there is always danger of some other church making overtures and it is well to have the presiding bishop and his board of advisors understand the earnest wish of the church.

It was no easy task to succeed Dr. John W. Flynn, but he quickly won a position of high regard and esteem among the people of the church and in the community generally and his flock are anticipating that under his leadership a fine new edifice will shortly become a reality and that an era of unequalled prosperity will follow.

The quarterly conference was presided over by District Superintendent Godshall, who occupied the pulpit at the evening service and delivered a sermon replete with thought and couched in appealing and convincing language.

BIGGEST AND BEST YET.

"Chimes of Normandy" to Break All Local Amateur Records.

To make the "Chimes of Normandy" the biggest and best amateur production ever staged in Oneonta is the ambition of the Elks' Glee club and the young ladies who are in the cast and chorus of the famous light opera to be presented at the Elks' home on March 3 and 4 and that they will realize that ambition is the feeling of all who know what energy is always put into things attempted by Oneonta Elks.

Rehearsals are being held frequently under the supervision of James Keeton, Jr., and already both cast and chorus are attaining a degree of perfection in staging and acting that promises a superb production of a light opera which the years have increased in popularity. The "Chimes of Normandy" is a pretentious play for amateurs to attempt but there is unusual talent among those selected for the parts and Director Keeton is certain of their ability to do the opera simple justice.

Scenery, costumes and lighting effects are being given great consideration. Lou Sherwood is in painting the scenery and from all reports is surpassing even the best of his former work. The costumes have been ordered from New York and will be correct in every detail. H. W. Fluhrer is in charge of the electrical effects, which will be more elaborate than any ever attempted on the Elks' home stage.

Amateur Club for Good Roads.

To become a member of the Oneonta Automobile club is not difficult, simply send $2.00 to the secretary and there is no further expense for 1934. The many benefits include membership in the New York State Automobile club, "Oneonta" radio license, handy membership cards for use in strange cities, free maps and touring guides, state and national legislative information, Motorists' magazine and more good roads. During the year our officers and committees are co-operating with others in clearing roads of snow with the two snow plows owned by the club, erecting road signs, and under their influence to secure more state roads in this and adjoining counties. There is much to do, more members mean more money to loan the cause of motorism. Don't wait for spring. Join now. Share the expense with your neighbors and enjoy the benefits which result. If not convinced, ask more details of officers. Harry C. Baird, secretary, 1 Broad street. adt 21

SNOWS MORE PARABLE

SNOWS FROM MILFORD AND STAMFORD EXPECTED THIS MORNING.

Expected That the Cooperstown line will be closed Tuesday morning from the County Seat—Milford line — Truck Cars Through From Binghamton to Cooperstown. Snow Over Binghamton. Road From Stamford to Binghamton Closed by Sheriff.

Motor cars are gradually working their way through the snow drifts in the state highways in this section and indications are that by tonight most of them, at least those traversed by bus lines, will be open for traffic, though of course not in the best shape.

Martin & Maynard of the Cooperstown-Oneonta bus line worked all day Saturday with a force of men between Milford and Portlandville and this morning expect to get the bus from Milford through to Oneonta. Today they will work north of Milford toward Cooperstown where snow may be encountered on the highway and hope to be able by night to get the other bus, which has been snowbound at Portlandville for three days, through to the county seat so that regular trips from Cooperstown to Oneonta can be resumed Tuesday morning. Work has been done from Cooperstown south where the snow is deep, especially from the village limits to Index, mostly by inhabitants along the route, and it is believed that the north end will be opened by tonight.

Trucks of the Sheffield Farms company at Hobart have plowed out the highway from Stamford to Davenport and it is in good shape. This morning O. J. Buck of the Stamford-Oneonta line will start from his home at Harperville Center for Oneonta. He will be accompanied by the big truck of Democrat & Son, food merchants at Stamford, and by another owned by N. P. Nichols, who conducts the store at West Harperfield, added by the Linn tractor owned by the town of Davenport, and it is the expectation that the highway will be opened from Davenport to the Oneonta town line, to which point the highway from Oneonta has been opened. It was stated last night, by the town of Oneonta. Two or more cars came through from Stamford on Saturday, the two taking nine hours for the trip, and other cars managed to pull through yesterday from Stamford to Oneonta, though finding much snow and being obliged to shovel at times.

South of Oneonta the Nestle company has opened the road to Wells Bridge and it is in fair shape, though considerable snow is still found between Oneonta and Wells Bridge. The big truck is reported to have come through from Binghamton on Saturday and another on Sunday, though snow in abundance with much delay is found in making Belden hill. No small car should attempt to make the Binghamton trip. Mr. LaGrange of the Sidney line will not attempt regular trips today, but will go over the route and investigate conditions, before accepting to carry passengers.

The road to Morris is reported open, with the bus route on that line having managed to get through both Friday and Saturday, though somewhat delayed. It is said that the poor stretch is that around "Cape Horn" between the Junction and the Buckley farm.

It is also said that the Schenectady-Worcester road is heavy to the latter place with some cars getting through, however, but The Star was unable last night to get in touch with the proprietor of the bus line operating there and learn his intentions.

St. James' Men's Club Banquet.

Those men who expect to attend the banquet of St. James' Men's club on Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock are requested to communicate with Alfred V. Carr today or tomorrow in order that plans may be made to provide for all. All men are welcome and tickets need not be paid for until the night of the banquet. Additional tickets may be had at the Carr Clothing company store.

New Members Received.

At the First Methodist church yesterday morning the pastor, Rev. Dr. John W. Flynn, received 14 members, 4 into preparatory membership, 3 into full fellowship and 7 by transfer from other churches by letter. The rite of baptism was administered to two adults and one child.

Business Women's Club.

There will be a business meeting of the club Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Community house. A speaker from the Home Economics bureau will be present and address the members and later refreshments will be served.

ABOUT $2,000 SUBSCRIBED

People of West End Church Expected to Reach Goal of Campaign to Build $10,000 Fund for Elm Park Church.

Yesterday was church improvement day at the Elm Park Methodist church, the start of a week's campaign to secure funds with which to finish the Sunday school room and make other improvements to the structure, and at its close the pastor, Rev. Wilbur C. Dodge, and the members of the congregation were extremely gratified at the progress already made. Approximately $2,000 was subscribed during the day, including a gift of $1,000 from Hon. and Mrs. D. F. Wilber, which was announced at the morning service.

The total amount sought is $10,000 and it is expected that before the end of the week the goal will be reached. This sum will permit the finishing of the church structure and will enable the church still better to serve its ever growing congregation. Rev. Dr. John Krantz of New York city, a specialist in raising church funds, preached at both morning and evening services. In the morning he took as his subject, "Christian Patriotism or Man's Love for the Church," while in the evening he preached on "Christ's Love for the Church." Dr. Krantz is an exceptionally able speaker and made a good impression upon the large congregations.

In their support of the fund raising campaign the community at large, as well as the members of the church, have shown great interest and liberality, and Pastor Dodge and the church officers are deeply grateful for their sympathy and aid.

TOO MUCH SNOW.

Annual Meeting of Guernsey Cattle Club Therefore Postponed.

The annual meeting of the Oneonta County Guernsey Cattle club, which was to have been held in Oneonta on Saturday was of necessity postponed to a later date, no member of the association living outside of the city being able to make the trip. When highway conditions become more favorable, and the weather a little warmer, the date of the postponed meeting will be announced.

Gold Supper Postponed.

St. James' guild monthly supper has been postponed to Saturday, March 3, instead of March 1 as previously announced.

LEVERICH MARRIAGE

Well known resident of Cooperstown and prominent New Yorker Wed. Last Saturday.

Cooperstown, Feb. 25. — A wedding of more than local interest took place Saturday noon in Christ church when Mrs. Jennie Reid Birdsell became the bride of Henry Stanton Leverich of New York. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Judge Henry M. Reid of Atlanta, Georgia. She was attended by her twin sister, Mrs. John E. J. Fashaw, as patron of honor, and her other attendants were her daughter, Miss Gertrude Birdsell, and her niece, Miss Catherine Anne Fashaw. The ushers were her son Ralph Reid Birdsell and her nephew, John R. Fashaw. John Phillip Ashton of New York was best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. L. Yates. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, 14 Main street. On March 4th Mr. and Mrs. Leverich will sail on the S. S. Lapland for an extended trip through Italy, France, Belgium and England. When they return they will reside at 174 East 80th street, New York. They have a summer home, "Open Country" at South Salem, Conn.

The bride is well known in Cooperstown, her former husband, the late Rev. Ralph Birdsell, being the rector of Christ church for many years. Mr. Leverich is a well known New York clubman, being a member of the Union and the Turf and Field clubs; he is a Yale graduate, class 1901; during the World war he held the rank of captain in the over seas forces.

RECOMMENDED BY HER DOCTOR

FOUNDED BY LYDIA E. FINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Kankakee, Illinois. — "My mother-in-law always took your medicine for weakness, and then in the Change of Life it did her so much good that she insisted I take it for a weakness I had for years and a half. It has strengthened me and now I have a nice baby boy. I do all my own housework now, and I recommend Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound whenever I have the opportunity. I am taking it again for weakness, as my family doctor has recommended it for this purpose." — Mrs. HENRY COULSON, 364 N. Harrison Ave., Kankakee, Illinois.

Real Evidence of Merit
For the relief of female weakness, pain and backache, nervousness and irregularity, with other troubles common to women, Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine.
Its worth is thoroughly established by such letters as the above. There are women everywhere, who, having received benefit, gladly tell others women about it. For sale by druggists everywhere.

COMMUNITY RALLY

Dean A. H. Mann Addresses Well Attended Meeting at Schenectady.
Schenectady, Feb. 25. — The Community rally held at the Grange hall was fairly well attended and all were keenly interested in the address by Jared VanWagoner of Schoharie county. The test was from Dean A. H. Mann, who is head of the great State college of Agriculture at Ithaca.

The six measures of agricultural civilization are these:
1. Are we increasing in health?
2. Are we growing in wealth?
3. Are we increasing in knowledge?
4. Are we growing in appreciation of the beauty of life and of the world that lies about us?
5. Are we growing in sociability?
6. Are we progressing in righteousness?

STRICKEN WHILE AT CHURCH

E. P. Mace of Delhi in Serious Condition, Though Improving.

Delhi, Feb. 25. — E. P. Mace was suddenly stricken with illness while attending service at the Second Presbyterian church Sunday morning. Soon after the sermon began his loud and deep breathing was noticed by those sitting near him, who at first thought he had fallen asleep. Quiet efforts to arouse him failing, several men went to his aid and still unconscious, he was carried out into the vestibule and then taken home. Later in the day he rallied but his condition is considered serious. He is well advanced in years and has been a long-time resident of Delhi. He is a brother of A. L. Mace, formerly of Walton.

Days Interest in Priest Shop.
M. B. Gilbert, a resident of Delhi for several years while employed as linotype operator on the Delaware Republican, and who early in the winter went to Margaretville, taking an editorial position on the Catskill Mountain News, has given up that work and gone to Walton, his home town, where he has bought an interest in the Chronicle job printer.

Mr. Gilbert is in Delhi for the week with his family.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM

Completely Relieved by
"Fruit-a-tives"

The Famous Fruit Medals

"Eight years ago, I was laid up with inflammatory rheumatism; nearly unable to move hand or foot. There was kidney trouble, indigestion, indigestion and liver difficulty. Soon as I began to use 'Fruit-a-tives', I could see improvement. I was relieved of constipation and liver trouble, and have been 100% better of rheumatism and kidney trouble." — Mrs. ALBERT YOUNG.

"Fruit-a-tives" are made from the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, and valuable tonics, and will relieve rheumatism when used regularly and consistently.

The one room schools receive the district quota, a teacher's quota of $200 and $2.00 on each full thousand that the assessed valuation is less than one hundred thousand.

Common schools of two or more teachers receive the district quota, $200 for each teacher employed and $100 for each teacher after the first.

Academic schools receive the district quota, $150 for each teacher employed and $100 for each teacher after the first or principal.

Contract districts are entitled after a deduction from the cost of tuition and transportation, of five mills on the assessed valuation of the district, to the same public money as though a teacher were hired and school maintained.

Consolidated districts are entitled, after a deduction of seven mills on the assessed valuation of the district from the cost of maintenance and transportation, to the same public money as though all the schools involved in the consolidation employed teachers and maintained separate schools.

The expense of teachers conference, $1.00 each and mileage at ten cents is added to the apportionment and 9.2 per cent of the teacher's salary in districts employing a teacher who belongs to the retirement system and 5.2 per cent in other cases, is deducted.

A bill now before the legislature would make the required tax in consolidated districts five instead of seven mills.

BREVITIES

In several places the churches in the Oneonta area have united in service and eventually have supported one good community church instead of two or more with meager membership. What to do, however, with the disused ones has been a subject for discussion; and one student of conditions has suggested that the only safe way is to tear down all but one of the churches, or dispose of it for them for business purposes. So long as the second church stands it remains a rallying point for those not wholly contented.

The Springfield Republican, which despite its name, is Democratic, apparently has no hope for prominent party leaders, such as Bryan, Cox, McAdoo, or even Underwood, in the 1934 race for the Presidency. However, it is believed there still is hope, and its candidate is John W. Davis of West Virginia and New York City. He has been representative in Congress, collector general of the United States and ambassador to Great Britain, with the notable distinction in the latter position that he never delivered a speech which his countrymen at home had to apologize for or condemn. That is surely a record which should make George Harvey hide his diminished head.

The metropolitan papers of yesterday were as one in affirming their belief in the prosecution of Secretary Hines on Saturday, and there were too many laws and that there is altogether too much legislation. Also they agree that the laws which it is really necessary to pass should be better drafted. These are things which should impress everybody who has given the matter consideration, and there should be steps taken, not merely for the codification and consolidation of existing laws, but for the elimination of unnecessary ones.

There does not seem to be any good reason for believing that Attorney General Cummings has in any way been weakened by what are now known as the Rogers-Baker scandals, but for a long time there has been growing conviction that he is in every way fitted for the important office which he now holds. For this reason there will be general conviction that as an embarrassment to the present administration he should get out, and as an embarrassment and a lack of loyalty to the chief executive which is not at all creditable.

It is perhaps unfortunate that when a new President comes into office through the death of his predecessor before the expiration of his term, he is not by custom expected to make a clean sweep of cabinet advisers and to start anew with men more to his liking. Keeping the old cabinet did not work well with Johnson, and particularly well with Arthur, whose was not a period of political unrest; and there are more modern instances. Inheriting as Coolidge did a cabinet left him under sorrowful circumstances. It was natural that he should wish it possible to keep it intact; but, that does not seem possible. Denby has resigned, and if Taft should follow it would not be evidence of wrong doing but merely a generous willingness to relieve the President of a burden which he did not in the first instance adopt.

THE GUIDE POST—BY HENRY VANDYKE

MYSTERY IN RELIGION

We speak God's wisdom in a mystery.—1 Cor. 13:1.

A religion that professed to reveal and explain everything, and to make the moral order of the universe and the nature and plans of God as plain to our comprehension as a map of the United States—a religion that contained no mystery would be quite as incredible as a religion that was a mystery.

We had insoluble problems and un-discoverable secrets in nature, and we expect to find them in theology. There is something hidden even in the least and lowest form of life, why not also in the highest and greatest? Do you remember Tennyson's poem "The Flower"? "Flower in the crannied wall, I pluck you out of the crannies, I hold you here, root and all, in my hand, Little flower—but if I could understand, What you are, root and all, and all in all, I should know what God and man are."

But that is precisely what we cannot attain. Anything that a telescope could discover among the stars, anything that logic could define and explain and fit into an exact philosophical system, would not be God.

For it belongs to his very essence that he be beyond our thought, and that his judgments are inscrutable, and his ways past finding out. We do not know anything about God unless we know that we cannot know him.

The Tip on the Pullman Car

The public is showing great interest in the announcement of the Pullman company that it has advanced the pay of its porters eight per cent. The smallness of the increase brings forth the comment that it is a pity that it was not more than eight per cent. In total the increase seems big to the Pullman company, because it will mean an advance of about a million dollars a year, but this is divided between from 3,000 to 10,000 porters. Nothing has been said as to the amount of pay porters received, but in an official inquiry by the Federal Commission on Federal Relations in 1915, it developed that at that time it was $27.00 each, per month. There may have been an advance during the war but if so it was not much. At that time it was intimated that the stockholders of the Pullman company were the real tipsters and that is the view the newspapers take of it.—Scranton Republican.

Again, the Right Thing

President Coolidge's instruction to the navy department, to suspend preparations for the proposed flight to the North Pole until the congress has had opportunity to manifest the view of its majority as to the advisability of the undertaking will be commended by all who have given thought to the planned aerial expedition, its conditions and circumstances.

Enthusiastic promoters of the enterprise are saying that unless the congress acts quickly, time left for preparations this year will be too short and the expedition will have to be postponed, even if action is favorable.

But that is not the reason why the congress should be ignored. A year's postponement would not be a misfortune. The North Pole will be just where it is now a year hence, and the conditions that must be encountered in an attempt to reach it through the air will be unchanged.—Albany Journal.

When Edison was a "Numbskull." When a teacher told Thomas A. Edison that he was a "numbskull," it is reported by an Edison employee, the youthful inventor-to-be ran to his mother in tears and was comforted with the maternal judgment that he was "the best boy in the whole world." Edison lived to find himself one of the four outstanding personalities of the century in the list sponsored by President Harrison, of the University of Michigan.—[New York World.]

Forest Conservation

We're slowly moving along in forest conservation in Pennsylvania, but the movement forward is too slight yet to make an appreciable impression on the future timber supply of the commonwealth. Conservation must be speeded up at once. It takes a long time for individuals or organizations to impress upon the minds of the people in general the utter necessity of this conservation. It must go on.—[Allentown Tribune.]

By James W. Burke, M.D.

DO YOU NEED FRESH AIR AT NIGHT?

I have written frequently about the wisdom of getting right off your feet when an illness came along, so as to give the heart a better chance to fight for you.

The heart really has but a fraction of the work to do that it has when you are walking around. However, the fact must not be overlooked, that your heart, and likewise your lungs are working when you are lying down just as when you are walking, only not to the same extent.

That means then that even if you are lying down, completely relaxed, even asleep, your heart will be sending blood around to all parts of your body, and that blood must be pure.

What is its point? That at night, when you are sleeping, the heart is going to need pure blood in order to refresh all your tissues, and carry away all waste matter. And it can get this pure blood from the lungs only, and the lungs must get fresh air in order to purify the blood.

The lungs must get this air from your sleeping room. It is its only source.

How important then that your bedroom be well aired. How can your blood feed tissues, and remove waste, or tired tissues, products from your tissues. If the blood is not purified by the lungs?

Remember, it was do its best with what it gets. You may have your home shut up tight, not a window or crack open, and you'll not be dead the next morning; the bad air hasn't killed you.

But only part the job of feeding your tissues, and carrying away waste has been done, and you arise the next morning unrefreshed.

There is the whole matter in a nutshell. What about it?

Get the air—if only a little—by the old fashioned method of lowering the upper sash, about 10 inches, and all opening at top with closely fitting board. Space an inch wide and as long as the window is left. Though this an ascending current of cold air will flow toward and gradually sink to floor. No rain can come in.

If you can open a window to another room or adjoining hall you can likewise produce a current, and a current is essential to perfect ventilation.

If you cannot arrange this, you can raise the lower sash a few inches, and lower the upper sash still more, then even if your door be closed you will create a current.

Remember you don't need as much fresh air when you are sleeping as when you are up and around, but you need some fresh air all the time.

Some people are mistaken. One occasionally finds a creek who can make perfect drinks without Baker's Cold-Remedy. Sold by all good grocers.

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES

Local and National

A meeting of the executive committee will be held in the city court room this evening at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of perfecting plans for the annual banquet. It is planned at present to hold the banquet on March 25, at which time it is understood that State Commander Spafford can be present.

A benefit card party will be held by the Ladies' auxiliary at the Community house at 7:30 o'clock on Friday evening. Tickets are fifty cents each. All Legionnaires are urged to attend as the proceeds will be used to purchase a stand of colors for the auxiliary.

Soliciting funds under the guise of World war veterans, the McLeod post of the American Legion is assisting business men in Mobile, Alabama, by a unique method. When solicitors appear in the business houses with a plea for help on account of being disabled service men, they are handed a card supplied by the Legion post which reads: "If you are an ex-service man or Legionnaire seeking help or employment, go to the post commander, or service officer of the American Legion." If the solicitor is found worthy of help after investigation, the post makes the necessary arrangements. This plan has been approved by Mobile business men and is said to have had good effects already.

Alfred V. Carr and Ralph W. Henderson will have charge of the entertainment at the next post meeting, to be held in K. of P. hall March 11 at 8 o'clock.

The 15th anniversary of the flying of the first American flag in face of the enemy during battle will be commemorated by the Ultra post of the Legion. The emblem, raised in 1777, was first flown at Fort Stanwix in that city. The event will be celebrated by a huge military celebration under Legion auspices in 1927. Plans are already being made.

Post Commander Lyman S. DeLaMater is confined to his bed by a severe illness, the result of a recent attack of influenza. His many friends and comrades will be glad to learn that his condition has been improving for the past two or three days.

TIME RECORDING DIRECTORS.

Sales of Last Month Reported Largest in Three Years.

Frank C. Venter, appointed last summer chief executive of the Endicott plant of the International Time Recording company of New York, was elected a member of the board of directors at the annual stockholders' meeting held in the Endicott office of the company Saturday.

A most optimistic outlook for business for 1934 was reported at the meeting. The sales for last month were greater than for any single month during the last three years. The business of the International Time Recording company, a subsidiary of the I. T. E. company, is so brisk as to demand day and night shifts in some departments.

The other directors were re-elected. They are: W. F. Smith, F. H. Chamberlain, Joseph E. Rogers and Thomas A. Watson of New York, George W. Fairchild of Oneonta and A. Ward Ford of Southampton.

Mr. Fairchild has been re-elected president and Mr. Rogers, general manager.

The national memorial to Admiral Paulina, in recognition of the magnanimity to Lieutenant Holman and the crew of the Merrimack of June 3, 1858, is ready to be forwarded to Admiral Cervera at Madrid. The memorial was the conception of Arthur Bird, editor of the Sidney Record, and represents two years of patient effort on the part of that gentleman.

The memorial is engrossed and illuminated and is signed by the governors of 22 states, many senators, congressmen, mayors of cities and other eminent Americans. Prof. E. F. Bacon of the Oneonta Normal school is one of the signers.

The present board of trustees of the village is one of the most efficient and economical that Oneonta has ever had. During the past two years, notwithstanding the reduction of the tax rate from two to one and a half per cent, $2,000 in bonds have been paid each year, whereas only $1,000 had been heretofore paid, that being all that is required.

In March, 1903, appeared the initial number of the "Oneonta," the monthly published by students of the Oneonta State Normal school. The boards of the first year were composed as follows: First term, F. H. Silberstein, editor-in-chief; J. Allen Reynolds, business manager; second term, J. L. Mott, editor; W. Allen Ruse, manager; third term, F. H. Webster, editor; Henry Tobey, manager.

ONEONTA'S ELEVENTH ANNUAL DOLLAR DAY

Presumably All Oneonta Merchants in Town in Offering Bargains on Friday, Feb. 29th.

Oneonta merchants almost without exception, will join in a general Dollar Day sale event on Friday. This is their semi-annual joint effort to give the people of Oneonta and vicinity extraordinary values. They are planning to employ extra sales people and are anticipating great crowds throughout Dollar Day.

Coming right in the heart of the winter season, yet at a time when clearance prices prevail on seasonal merchandise, Dollar Day will bring deeper cuts in the prices of ready-to-wear garments for men, women and children in scores of stores participating in the sale. On staple stocks as well, radical reductions are scheduled bringing many items into the actual dollar sale classification. The values to be offered on Friday will be genuine, according to many merchants who are preparing their regular stocks for the big buying event. There have been no importations of so-called "sales merchandise" to serve as leaders and also as disappointments to the purchasing public. The sales offerings are being made from the shelves and racks of merchandise purchased for regular selling.

Because of the continued lack of extremely cold weather many people deferred buying heavy, new coats and other winter merchandise. As a consequence many merchants have larger stocks of goods than is customary at this season. These goods will be offered at practically cost prices in many stores during Dollar Day and will mean the saving of many dollars to purchasers, they say.

The pulling power of cooperative Dollar Days, their values to purchasers and merchants alike, have been demonstrated. Indications are that like results may be expected in Oneonta Friday for the merchants cooperating.

ASSISTANT HOTEL MANAGER

THE DAIRY LUNCH SOLD
E. S. Rhodes Buys Well Known Restaurant at 19 Broad Street.

Announcement was made yesterday that E. S. Rhodes of Franklin has purchased the Dairy Lunch at 19 Broad street of Earl D. Sitts, who has owned and operated the business since October, 1922. Mr. Rhodes comes to our city highly recommended as a business man who has had many years of experience dealing with the public. With his experience and general high repute, together with the great reputation and business this leading restaurant has enjoyed in years past, we have the assurance that the same excellent standing will be fully maintained. Mr. Rhodes took possession Monday. The restaurant will be closed until Thursday for the purpose of making added improvements and the necessary changes, at which time he will open with a full force of help and a complete line of eats to give the patronage the best of food and service.

The Dairy Lunch was first opened on March 15, 1914, the firm at that time being Smith & Anderson, a partnership which continued until the death of the latter. Mr. Smith conducted the business alone for some time and later sold a half interest therein to Mr. Caulkins. This firm continued for about three years, enjoying the best of patronage, under the name of Smith & Caulkins. In April, 1922, the partnership of Mr. Smith and Mr. Caulkins was dissolved on account of Mr. Smith's health. He sold his interest in the business to Mr. Sitts, and the firm of Caulkins & Sitts continued for a few months when Mr. Sitts purchased the interest of Mr. Caulkins, and has been the sole owner since, until yesterday when he sold the entire business to Mr. Rhodes.

From its establishment the Dairy Lunch has enjoyed a large patronage and an enviable reputation. The plans of Mr. Sitts are not known at present, but on retiring from this business commends his successor to the patronizing public in confidence that the high grade repute of the restaurant, in which he has always taken the greatest pride, will be fully maintained.

Tomorrow's Star for the grand opening on Thursday. The above sale was made through the personal attention of R. M. Collier of the Collier agency, and H. F. Howard of the Ray & Howard agency, both of this city.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE
Frank H. Leonard to Speak at Chapin Church on March 7th.

Announcement is made by the First Church of Christ Scientist of this city that Frank H. Leonard, C. S. D., member of the board of lecturers of the Mother church at Boston, Mass., will deliver a lecture on Christian Science at the Chapin Universalist church on Friday evening, March 7, at 8 o'clock.

The members of the local church will cordially welcome all who are interested in this lecture and hope that many will embrace the opportunity to hear Mr. Leonard.

Automobile Club for Good Roads.
To become a member of the Oneonta Automobile club is not difficult, simply send $2.00 to the secretary and there is no further expense for 1934. The new booklet includes membership in the New York State Automobile club, "Oneonta" radiator emblem, handy membership cards for use in strange cities, maps and touring guides, state of national legislative information. Moreover, the year our officers and committee are co-operating with others in clearing roads of snow with the two snow plows owned by the club, erecting road signs, and using their influence to secure more state funds in this and adjoining counties. There is much to do, more members mean more success to better the cause of motorists. Don't wait for spring. Join now. Share the expense with your neighbors and enjoy the many pleasures which result. If not convinced, ask more details. Officers: Harry C. Ward, secretary, 8 Broad street, adv 11

THE LEAP YEAR DASH

Crowds All Day Long Viewed and Awaited the Presents on Display in the Show Windows of Oneonta's Christmas Store.

A long-legged, long-tailed crane, doing duty for a stork which was not immediately available, stood at guard all day yesterday in the show window of the Gas and Electric company building in a folded linen cloth a good sized baby which for the time being posed as centerpiece of the Leap Year infant which, being the last born on Friday next in Oneonta or Delaware counties, will be entitled to the numerous gifts which his (or her) abundance, awaiting his (or her) coming. If there were any who thought the public would not be interested, they were much mistaken. In early morning the crowd began to assemble—women and men, boys and girls. Little girls and boys, all of whom were interested in the stork, the baby, and the gifts.

As for the men, they perhaps did not evince a reasonable concern, albeit there were the ties and the pipe for dad, and both of fine quality. The women, however, looked long and appreciatively, appraising every separate piece and approving them all. Many of the smaller boys, doubtless, voiced the sentiment of the lad who announced after a long survey, "Gee! They ain't no steds as no steds!" but the little girls looked over the dresses and hats, the toys and the rest of the gifts and perhaps all thought what one of them was heard to say: "Oh-h-h aren't they dear!"

This was the story of the whole day; the exhibit was the center of attraction, and the presents, which everybody must admit were remarkably judicious and complete for a baby's outfit, in view of the fact that each donor gave what he or she pleased, were on everybody's tongue, not only on the street but in the home. There are few babies born with a better outfit and other infant necessities and accessories, than will be bestowed upon this child whose name, sex and place and hour of birth are as yet unknown. For all the rest of the week, until Friday night at least, the gifts will be on exhibition, and no doubt as large or even larger crowds will be present each day, and certainly a record one on Friday, which is Dollar Day.

For the purpose of reassuring a considerable number of inquirers who have wondered what would be done if no child were born in either county on February 29, it may be stated that in Oneonta last year there were 270 children born, which means that there is about three chances out of four that a child will arrive on that day. In the two counties there is a total population of about 20,000, or between eight and nine times that of Oneonta. In the entire territory therefore, there would be about five chances for a baby to one for no baby on the 29th. And, to make the assurance doubly sure, the offer is for the first baby born after midnight on the morning of Friday, the 29th, which might if necessary, as it probably will not be, take the award over for several days. Attention is called again to the request that the attending physician send immediate notice by phone of the birth, giving the exact time.

While the Oneonta merchants have been somewhat slow in their responses, leading manufacturing firms in the big cities have also been quick to reply, and their accompanying letters have uniformly been expressive not only of a desire to cooperate but of their thanks for being "let in" on the proposition.

ANNUAL CHAMBER MEETING

Discussion of Semi-Annual Payment of Taxes at Chamber of Commerce Catering Tonight—New Secretary to Be Elected.

"Should semi-annual payment of taxes be provided for by amendment to the city charter?" This will be the chief topic of discussion at the annual meeting of Oneonta Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 o'clock this evening at Municipal hall. President H. C. Laurs will preside. Officers of the Chamber will render brief reports. M. C. Hornstrom will lead the discussion on the proposed change in tax payments.

All members of the Chamber, and other citizens who may be interested in the discussion, are urged to attend tonight's meeting and participate in the discussion. It is proposed that the city, school, county and state taxes be assessed at one time but made payable in two semi-annual installments, April 1 and October 1, being suggested as more convenient times for such payments than the present ones.

E. J. McEwen, who succeeds Everett Hicks as secretary of the Chamber, will be present at tonight's meeting and it is hoped that many members not already acquainted with him will take this opportunity of meeting him. He will assume his duties here on March 15.

Following adjournment of the meeting, suggestions of members present as to activities which should be included in the year's program will be received by the program of work committee, consisting of Chairman W. Morton Bertrand, C. C. Miller, and Lee D. VanWert.

ROAD CONDITIONS STILL BAD

Some Progress Made Yesterday in Opening Thoroughfares But Color Is Still Bad for Small Cars.

During the past 24 hours strenuous endeavors have been made to open up the main thoroughfares leading out of the city but conditions yesterday did not differ materially from those of the day before. Most of the highways are still dangerous for light trucks and in some cases the heavy trucks are still unable to get through. The Cooperstown road, from Middleburgh yesterday and the driver showed that during the day an endeavor would be made to open the road to Cooperstown with the hope of getting the bus all the way through this morning. Beyond Cooperstown toward Nicholsburg and Utica it is understood that conditions are very bad and that no cars are coming through.

Heavy trucks have come in from Binghamton over Belden hill but the going is very bad and light cars are not attempting the trip. The road is entirely impassable from here to Sidney but is heavy and the Sidney bus has as yet made no trips. A. J. Higgins, the proprietor, stating that it would be impossible to keep any kind of a schedule.

The Stamford bus came in from Harpersfield Center yesterday and it is understood that the road has been plowed out to Stamford and is in fair condition. Beyond Stamford conditions are very bad.

No one could be found yesterday who had seen the Worcester bus come in and it is thought that conditions are still bad in that direction. Beyond Cobleskill conditions get worse and few cars are coming in from Albany, none in the past two or three days. The route through Esperance is said to be entirely blocked.

The road is in good shape to Morris and cars are getting through without difficulty. A car came through from Franklin Saturday night by way of Unadilla but no one is yet essaying the trip over the hill from Otisco.

Yesterday's slight thaw helped where the roads have been opened as it packed the snow down but where no ploughing has been done the thaw has hardened the snow so that going is very difficult. A hard blow now could cause but little drifting but should a heavy fall occur, as is predicted, followed by a stiff wind, the roads will be in as bad shape as ever.

Mr. Smith conducted the business alone for some time and later sold a half interest therein to Mr. Caulkins. This firm continued for about three years, enjoying the best of patronage, under the name of Smith & Caulkins. In April, 1922, the partnership of Mr. Smith and Mr. Caulkins was dissolved on account of Mr. Smith's health. He sold his interest in the business to Mr. Sitts, and the firm of Caulkins & Sitts continued for a few months when Mr. Sitts purchased the interest of Mr. Caulkins, and has been the sole owner since, until yesterday when he sold the entire business to Mr. Rhodes.

From its establishment the Dairy Lunch has enjoyed a large patronage and an enviable reputation. The plans of Mr. Sitts are not known at present, but on retiring from this business commends his successor to the patronizing public in confidence that the high grade repute of the restaurant, in which he has always taken the greatest pride, will be fully maintained.

Tomorrow's Star for the grand opening on Thursday. The above sale was made through the personal attention of R. M. Collier of the Collier agency, and H. F. Howard of the Ray & Howard agency, both of this city.

To Wed Egyptian Royalty

Mrs. Jean Nash, daughter of an American millionaire, who eloped at the age of 17, now is married, it is reported, to Prince Ahmed Sahib Bey (shown with her) nephew to King Faud of Egypt. One report is that Mrs. Nash will embrace the Mohammedan faith.

GARDNER'S PHILHARMONICS

Organization of 60 Local Musicians
Given Two Delightful Concerts at Oneonta Theatre.

The concert given last evening at the Oneonta theatre by Gardner's Philharmonics orchestra at its first appearance of the season, demonstrated beyond doubt the high worth of this aggregation of 60 local musicians, whose work has featured musical affairs in Oneonta for more than ten years. The difficult program was rendered in faultless fashion and was highly appreciated by the large audience present at both performances.

Prof. Robert Gardner has labored hard with the orchestra and his work has borne abundant fruit. The first selection was an overture, "Pique Dame," by Suppe, a difficult number in which the musicians did full justice. This was followed by a selection in lighter vein, the fox trot, "Linger Longer," by Vincent Rose. Miss Annie Waters, then whom Oneonta has no finer soprano, then rendered in perfect style, "I Hear a Thrush at Eve," by Cadman and responded to the generous applause with a light number, sung in equally delightful manner.

"La Chaconne," by Gabriel Marie, was played by the strings and this old favorite was heartily enjoyed. The concluding number was a medley of selections from George M. Cohan's musical comedy, "The Rascals of Olden," now making a tremendous hit in New York city.

HOWLAND GRANTED DIVORCE

A. C. Miller, of International Correspondence School, Co-Respondent.

At the session of the supreme court at Cooperstown yesterday R. F. Howland of this city was granted an absolute divorce from his wife, Clara E. Howland, Albert C. Miller, representing the International Correspondence school at Scranton, Pa., being named as co-respondent.

The action was based on statutory grounds and the verdict was based largely on the testimony of Charles Fauson, proprietor of the Riverside hotel at Walton, and Lewis Steid, chief of police of Walton. Neither the defendant nor the co-respondent appeared at Cooperstown for the trial.

Hon. George L. Bockes of this city appeared for Mr. Howland and the defendant was represented by Claude V. Smith.

HONOR JUDGE'S MEMORY

Portrait of Hon. James W. Barnum
County Judge for 12 Years, Presented to Otsego County Bar Association
—News of Court Actions.

Cooperstown, Feb. 22. — A fitting tribute was paid the memory of the late Hon. James W. Barnum, county judge of Otsego county for 12 years, at the opening of the trial and special term of supreme court in Cooperstown this afternoon, when Hon. Charles C. Fleisch of Canastota, president of the Otsego County Bar association, called attention to the portrait which has recently been hung on the wall of the court room and moved that formal cognizance be taken of the event. Judge Kellogg, who is presiding, readily granted the motion, and Mr. Fleisch presented R. W. Barnum of Cherry Valley, brother of the deceased, to represent the donors, County Judge U. G. Welch of Edinboro to represent the bench and the Hon. George L. Bockes of Oneonta to the bar.

Mr. Barnum explained that while it had been his intention to present the portrait personally, the widow of the deceased had insisted upon having a share and so upon her behalf as well as his own, he took great pleasure in presenting the portrait to the Otsego County Bar association. Judge Welch and Mr. Bockes each delivered impressive eulogies upon the life and character of Judge Barnum and Justice Kellogg added a few words to those already spoken. He said that Judge Barnum was an able lawyer, a citizen of much usefulness.

Status of Court Actions.

Very little business appeared ready for the court upon the call of the calendar, the great majority of the 37 cases being announced as over the term.

The action of Henry F. Skinner and Louise E. Skinner against Leigh W. Murdoch, one of the suits growing out of the failure of the Miller Strong Drug company, although it was announced as ready, will not be tried by Justice Kellogg. Lincoln L. Kellogg, son of Justice Kellogg, appears as attorney for the plaintiff and Claude V. Smith for the defense. The action of Maude Crewell against Fred S. Williams, Fletcher Brown, John H. Watkins, and J. Stanley Watkins for conversion was put down for Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the action of Daniel A. Trinkle against Albro D. Sherman for breach of contract was scheduled for Wednesday morning.

Other matters which were announced as ready for trial were as follows: Nellie Mott against George Noble for adjustment of account, reserved; Harold M. Briscoe against Theodore Smith, negligence, first Thursday; Helen Epstein, an infant by Jacob Epstein, her guardian ad litem, against Fred N. VanWick, negligence, first Thursday; Clyde Enterlin against Laverne Aker and Gertrude Alger, recovery of damages to be tried at Oneonta without a jury; Daniel A. Trinkle against Fred Sargent and Charles Sargent to set aside a deed to be tried at Oneonta.

Cases Settled or Discontinued.
Cases announced as settled or discontinued: Arthur Seybort against Delaware and Hudson Railroad company, negligence; Ora G. Fisk against Francis Salsbery damages; Ethel Gage, co-administratrix against Delaware and Hudson Railroad company, negligence; Consolidated Rendering company against the Delaware & Hudson Railroad company, negligence.

W. H. Sturgeon of South Worcester was appointed foreman of the grand jury. The trial jurors were sworn this afternoon until Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock as there is nothing pending on Tuesday to demand their attendance.

Six Otsegoans Naturalized.
Naturalization papers were granted to the following: Elias Andrew Nader, Oneonta, Syrian; Harry Drake, Oneonta, English; Glynn David Waken, Oneonta, Syrian; Sam David Waken, Oneonta, Syrian; Walter Hewlett, Gilkersonville, English; Scarpine Blot, Otis, Oneonta, Italian; Edward W. Scaryard, Cliftonville, Canadian; Nicholas Rizzo, Oneonta, Italian; Mattie Keith, East Worcester, American.

Funeral Announcement.
The funeral services of the late Alvin J. Judd will be held from his late home at 115 Chestnut street on Wednesday at 2 p. m. The pastor, Rev. John W. Flynn of the First Methodist church, will officiate and the body will be placed in the vault at Greenwood cemetery and later in the spring taken to Troy for interment.

Deaths.
Funeral of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hodge of Walton, deceased at the Parsonage hospital, was held at the funeral home, 230-2, 230-3, 230-4, 230-5, 230-6, 230-7, 230-8, 230-9, 230-10, 230-11, 230-12, 230-13, 230-14, 230-15, 230-16, 230-17, 230-18, 230-19, 230-20, 230-21, 230-22, 230-23, 230-24, 230-25, 230-26, 230-27, 230-28, 230-29, 230-30, 230-31, 230-32, 230-33, 230-34, 230-35, 230-36, 230-37, 230-38, 230-39, 230-40, 230-41, 230-42, 230-43, 230-44, 230-45, 230-46, 230-47, 230-48, 230-49, 230-50, 230-51, 230-52, 230-53, 230-54, 230-55, 230-56, 230-57, 230-58, 230-59, 230-60, 230-61, 230-62, 230-63, 230-64, 230-65, 230-66, 230-67, 230-68, 230-69, 230-70, 230-71, 230-72, 230-73, 230-74, 230-75, 230-76, 230-77, 230-78, 230-79, 230-80, 230-81, 230-82, 230-83, 230-84, 230-85, 230-86, 230-87, 230-88, 230-89, 230-90, 230-91, 230-92, 230-93, 230-94, 230-95, 230-96, 230-97, 230-98, 230-99, 230-100.

INCOME RETURNS SLOW.

Less Than Ten Per Cent Have Filed Returns Thus Far.

Less than 10 per cent of the men and women in the Syracuse internal revenue district, which includes Oneonta, who are required to file income tax returns before March 15, have done so thus far, according to Jesse W. Clarke, collector of internal revenue. This proportion is about the same as in previous years, due to the general reluctance on the part of taxpayers to file returns before compelled to by law, according to the revenue officials.

Since deputies took the field Monday to assist taxpayers in the cities and villages in the district, the number of returns filed has shown a big increase, but not enough to prevent the last minute rush of taxpayers which Collector Clarke is preparing for.

STARTING JUDGE DEAD.

W. F. LATHIFF Well Known Here Dead at Keene, N. H.

Oneonta friends have received word of the death of W. F. Lathiff, former starting judge at the Oneonta and Morris fair races, which occurred this week at his home in Keene, N. H. Funeral services were held Friday.

For several years Mr. Lathiff acted as starting judge at the fair races, and recently he has supplied the vaudeville and amusement program in front of the grandstand during the race heats at Morris. He was also a member of the fair.

His death is keenly regretted by all of his Oneonta friends. Mr. Lathiff was taken ill in January, and at the time of the state association fair meeting in Albany, he was confined to his room and was unable to attend the session. He was about 54 years old.

Enjoyable Party for Miss Davidson.
About 20 high school friends of Miss Pauline Davidson helped her pass a very pleasant evening at her home at 110 Chestnut street Saturday evening. Games and dancing were the feature of the evening, and refreshments were served. At the stroke of 12 all departed for their various homes, having voted Miss Pauline a very charming hostess.

Among the guests were Phillip Strong of the Cooperstown High school.

Police Court Notes.
George Henry Knapp of Maryland, arrested Saturday evening by Officer Terrell, pleaded guilty to a charge of public intoxication in city court yesterday morning and was fined $10 by Judge VanWert. The fine was paid.

Fred Harvey, 34, of this city was arrested at 7 o'clock last evening by Officer Otto and D. E. R. (O'Brien) Brown. He will be arraigned before Judge VanWert in city court this morning on a charge of public intoxication.

CHENANGO COUNTY RECTOR

Experienced Volunteer Fireman Took
How to Guard Farm Property.

Ten ways to prevent fires in the country districts were pointed out by Mr. C. Meyer, Episcopal missionary of Chenango county, in a recent address at the state college of agriculture at Ithaca. Mr. Meyer has long been interested in volunteer fire departments and has served as head of the Chenango county association. His address is 100 North Main street.

First, periodical cleaning and examination of chimneys. If the chimney is low it should be increased in height to avoid ignition from sparks flying to the wood shingle roof, especially if a wood fire is burning and the wind is high.

Second, care in regard to location of building and direction of wind before burning weeds or rubbish.

Third, matches should be stored in glass, china or metal covered, receptacles and removed from paste board boxes.

Fourth, properly erected and inspected lightning rods are almost a sure protection against fires from lightning.

Fifth, kerosene or gasoline lanterns should not be used in a barn. Electric lanterns, or electric torches, cost very little more, and are safe.

Sixth, insurance policies demand certain restrictions in storage of gasoline and kerosene, and yet even common sense is ignored in storage of these inflammable materials around barn buildings.

Seventh, all smoking should be prohibited in or around barn buildings, especially where there is any hay, straw or corn fodder stored.

Eighth, more care should be exercised in electric wiring for home electric plants. A competent electrician should be employed.

Ninth, boiling of sugar or meats should always be done at a safe distance from farm buildings.

Tenth, all new buildings should include fire proof roofing. Avoid the use of wood shingles.

Just think! It only takes a cup of boiling hot water and a pinch of Blenda to make the most soothing and refreshing drink you can buy. advt 6t

STEVENS HARDWARE

Why not let us take all the hard work out of your wash day? Our Electric Washers add 52 days a year of comfort. Come to us for a true and tried appliance.

Double Action

The rocking of the tub—up and down and back and forth at the same time flushes the water over, under and through the clothes—thoroughly cleaning them in a minimum of time. This is because water action is what cleans clothes and the 1900 Cataract has greater water action than any other washer. No need for mechanical devices inside the tub to injure your dainty clothes, laces and curtains. Just the clothes and soapy water inside the smooth copper tub.

1900 CATARACT
A powerful action in the capacity of the tub, equivalent to 100 lbs. of water.

Double Guarantee

The 1900 Cataract is not only guaranteed by its manufacturers but also by us. It is a tried and proven product, not an experiment—the result of 26 years' experience in building and improving oscillating washers. Briefly—you know you are making a safe investment.

Endorsed by Leading Authorities

The 1900 Cataract is endorsed by state and national authorities as well as by Domestic Science Experts, the Good Housekeeping Institute and others. You can't go wrong by giving the judgment of these authorities a trial.
